GOOD ROADS MOVEMENTS

Warwick and Elizabeth City Counties to Issue Bonds.

ROCKEFELLER AT HAMPTON

New Battleship Maine at Newport News. Newport News Yard Expects to Show Its Builders Something When Missouri is Launched.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., Feb. 19.—The two lower Peninsula counties, Warwick and Elizabeth City, will have good roads before another year rolls around if the plans of large property owners in both counties do not miscarry. A movement has been started in Warwick county to secure permission from the Legislature to issue bonds for the purpose of improving the roads and bridges. It is understood that a bill will be introduced in the next session. A bill is also in course of preparation having for its object the granting of authority to the supervisors of Elizabeth City county to issue $50,000 worth of bonds for the purpose of improving the roads and bridges in that county. Both bills will probably be introduced in the next few days.

Major James Haughton, the British vice-consul here, has just forwarded to the Foreign Office of Great Britain a statement of the facts in connection with the arrest of Captain C. E. Ryan and Sidney Adams, of the Chesapeake and Ohio steamship Cebra, which took on cargo here and finished loading at Pinner's Point. It seems that the captain of the Cebra, who was arrested, had a reward of $10 each for their arrest and delivery to him. They were arrested, given a hearing, assessed with the costs and ordered held for the costs. Several days later they were taken to the Cebra at Pinner's Point and a bill of $13.50 was rendered the captain, covering the reward and cost of jail keep and cost of delivering the men to Pinner's Point. The money, however, came out of the wages of the seamen. The Seamen's Aid Society of Liverpool took up the matter and sent a communication to the Foreign Office, which referred it to the British consul here. The society wanted to know if such assessment was regular, and insisted that the men were not deserters and, not being such, the captain should have been compelled to pay the costs of having the men arrested. Chief of Police Johnson, Police Justice Brown and City Sergeant Miltstead sent statements of their part in the matter. The charges were registered.

YOUNG-ROCKEFELLER

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and his wife arrived here this morning from Washington on George Gould's private car Atlanta, of the Southern Missouri Railroad. They went to Old Point, and during the day they visited the Hampton Normal and Agricultural Institute, which comes in for a share of the senior Rockefeller's educational funds. Rockefeller, Sr., left Jersey City Monday night on the Chesapeake and Ohio for Asheville, N. C., with a party. Young Rockefeller left the same night in the Atlanta for Washington, coming from the Chesapeake and Ohio to Richmond, and there his car was switched to the Southern Railway, over which he proceeded to Asheville to join his father's party for an extended Southern tour, that will last until April and will carry the party to the Pacific coast. At Palm Beach, Fla., there will be a conference between Rockefeller, Jr., and George Gould, relative to the Standard Oil Company's stock market campaign for the control of the company.

General Chaffee, commanding the Department of the East, United States Army, accompanied by four officers of his staff, arrived at Old Point this morning from Washington to make an inspection of the troops and barracks at Old Point. At 10:30 o'clock General Chaffee and his staff, accompanied by Colonel Story, commanding at the fort, were escorted from the Chesapeake and Ohio by a battalion of artillery and the Post band. The fort was inspected and General Chaffee witnessed full dress parade of all the companies of artillery stationed at the post. After the parade the party returned to the Chamberlin, and tonight left for Washington.

THE NEW MAINE. The new battleship Maine, which arrived at Hampton yesterday from the yard of her builders at Philadelphia, will come up to Newport News Saturday morning for coal, according to the present understanding. Naval officials here and shipyard workers are anxious to see the Maine, and a number of them will doubtless go out on the battleship. When the government gave out the contracts for the battleships Maine, Mississippi and Ohio, the vessels were made on the original designs of the shipbuilders. The Newport News yard is building the Missouri, which is nearly completed. A comparison of the merits of the designs of the two leading shipyards of America will be awaited with interest. The Maine on her official trial did not exceed her contract speed of eighteen knots an hour. The shipyard officials here are confident that the Missouri will easily eclipse the Maine's record.

C. F. Bailey, chief engineer for the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, this morning returned from San Francisco, after a run to Honolulu on the new Newport News-built steamship Korea. He made this trip for the purpose of observing the working of the ship's engines. It has been reported that the Korea was converted into an oil burner, using oil instead of coal for fuel. At the shipyard it was stated that this will possibly be done, but the report is erroneous that the Korea will be converted back to Newport News to have the work done. Mr. Bailey was delayed several days on his return across the continent by snowdrifts in the West.

JONES AND RIXEY. The people of Newport News and vicinity are criticizing Congressmen Jones and Rixey on account of their attitude toward the proposed naval appropriation for more warships. Congressman Jones is quoted as saying that the country had a large enough navy, and Congressman Rixey is known to be opposed to any material naval increase, although a member of the Naval Committee of the House. The attitude of these two Virginia Congressmen is regarded here as strange and inconsistent, in view of the fact that Virginia leads the country as a shipbuilding State in the matter of tonnage under construction.

The Virginia pilots take exception to the statement published in several papers that the steamship Powhatan, which left the Cape Tuesday night and took on

Dr. Logan, who was her former rector, and who is still the much-beloved rector of this parish.
